He later moved to New Orleans, LA where he worked as a skilled laborer and a driver. Once in New Orleans he met Dale Wolfe then began caring for her & her children until their first child Eurolonda Noel was born. Although apart the couple remain lifelong friends until her death.

In 1978 he met and married Annette McCarter and to this union they were blessed to welcome a son Cortney McCarter.

In 1985 work steered him to Minnesota where he met and married Catherine Thompson McCarter in 1986 the couple made St. Paul, MN their home happily married for 10 years until her health failed. A retired widower "Baby Jack" began what he called his life's journey as a traveler. A kind soul with a heart of gold, gravitated people to him from state to state. He never met a stranger and was a welcomed friend to all he knew & met. He singlehandedly visited with all his loved ones and family from California, Nevada, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois, and to New Orleans. He became his family's traveling ambassador dubbing him the name "Baby Jack the world traveler". He stayed in touch with each and every relative near and far. However, the roads always led him back to Mississippi the place he called home much of his young life.

Early Wednesday morning on the 17th day of October while in Jackson MS "Baby Jack" departed this life amongst family and friends.
