

Mr. Derrick Fitzgerald Booker

April 14, 1966 - April 17, 2025

Derrick Booker was preceded in death by his beloved wife, Valerie Booker, with whom he shared a deep bond and a loving family. Together, they raised six children—five by birth and one cherished as their own. From oldest to youngest, their children are: Sharries Smith, Apollos Smith, Derrick Smith, Jereme Smith, Lorenzo Smith, and Paris Smith. He was also a proud grandfather to eight grandchildren, all of whom brought joy to his life.

Derrick was born to Margaret Anne Moore and Amos Booker, and was later lovingly raised by his stepfather, LC Moore. He grew up alongside five siblings: Vivian Moore, Latoria Hill, Amos Booker, Lisa Kyles, and Micheal Booker, who passed before him.

He attended Provine High School and later worked for several years at Coca-Cola. When he began experiencing heart issues, Derrick shifted his focus to his passion for music. He founded Paid 4 Life Records, where he recorded and produced music—a creative legacy that remains after his passing.

Derrick Booker leaves behind a life rich in love, music, and family. His greatest legacy lives on through his children, his grandchildren, and the music he poured his soul into.
