“ Hey!! I will miss Earnestine. She and I met in the fall of 2011. We were both at the health department dealing with paperwork for international travel shots. I shared that I was preparing to visit South Africa and she shared that she was preparing to visit Ghana. We exchanged telephone number and have been friends since then. We would generally texted each school day morning (very early) because I would be up getting my children ready for school and she would be up getting Destiny ready and out to the bus stop for school. When I texted her Saturday (January 19, 2019) in the morning and in the afternoon, I didn't pay much attention that she did not return the text message. I figured she was just busy. But I did, however, receive a return text message from Francis stating, "Sorry to inform you your friend is died she died yesterday this is the husband texting back". I was crushed!! I will miss you Earnestine.

Evangelist Earnis Stean, I miss you so much! Yes. like you always said, I spelled your name right LOL!!

Although it's January 2022, it feels like it was only yesterday that I received a call about your passing. I am sure you know I am keeping my promise to you, God can affirm that fact! Stean, it's been so strange to come to Jackson and not talk to or see you. To your loving husband and family please know that you all will forever be in my heart, thoughts. and prayers. Stean is more than my friend or my sister-in-Christ; as my son's Aunt, we all are family.

Praising God for the blessed life you lived, Stean, and the people you blessed with God's word.

When I look at the pictures we took on your last trip to New Orleans, my heart smiles looking at the love between you and Francis. I am so grateful to be able to witness love that was blessed by God. Thank you for giving us spiritual and relationship goals, with God as The Head of our lives! Missing you, rest in His arms, have a heavenly blessed birthday on January 16th.

Remember, I always have to tell you early so I don't forget LOL! Much love always,
