Beautiful tribute..beautiful children..I too have lost a son, Brandon. I believe he and George were friends from Florence. There are no words to represent the pain of a father, child, brother, friend, grandson. We travel this journey uniquely after the end of a son's life on earth. You are not alone. Prayees of strength and continued bonding together to raise these precious children with gratefulness and memories of having their father if only for a shorter time. I pray God blesses you with joy in his living.
