“ The twins were the first two dojo mates that I looked up to and attempted to emulate while we trained in martial arts. The emulation continued on throughout my life because they both were consistently good men and seeing them whenever I did was always a pleasure. I knew I wanted to be as good of a man as they are as a young man and I appreciate their kindness to this day.

“ Although I only recall you as a youth, the love your parents showed and exemplified was enough to know that you were an amazing man. May your soul rest with Our Heavenly Father 💕 and May he give your family the strength to continue this earthly journey without your physical presence. Memories shared will be an unknown strength for your beloved family 🙏

“ I was so sad to hear of Hekemia’s passing. I don’t have words to express the hurt that our family feels, as we join the family in deep sorrow. The Lawrence twins, Hekemia and Heshium , grew up like brothers with my son, Synarus Green. They were like brothers, but of different mothers.

Over the last few days we have been devastated, while at the same time we were thanking God for all the precious memories that will comfort us for the rest of our lives. We pray that the family’s memories of Hekemia will also bring them comfort during the most difficult days ahead.

Hekemia will be missed by so many people whose lives he touched and impacted. I am convinced that God was with Hekemia to the very end, just as He promised. And, we remember that when we are weak, God is still mighty enough to carry us through the storm of death.

To the family: Stay Strong and keep the faith. The Lord knows your names. He hears your cries. He cares for you.

We will continue to keep you in our thoughts and prayers. 🙏❤️

Blessings and Love,

Circuit Judge Tomie Green (ret.)

“ I want to send my condolences to the family and friends who were dear to him through brotherhood and sisterhood. Greetings as a Sistar who came across Hekemia when I was at Tougaloo College and met him when he was in a car club. When we met we were friends. He had a sweet spirit that can fill up a room. Then I became an Eastern Star even though I wasn't from his lodge our bond was deep. He even made me a turtle. He made sure I was good. Then come to find out that we met up again at Xerox and I sat right in front of him and he helped me out when I needed it. He was a big brother from another mother. He always greeted me with Heyyyy Light you shining bright today in his squeaky voice. Bruh Fest was when he was like sis you coming to Hattiesburg. He would say when you get there hit me up. When I moved back home to Chicago he was like don't be no stranger and when I would come back to Mississippi I would always tell him I was back in town. This breaks my heart and he will truly be missed. I will be in solidarity on Saturday in respect for him since I will not be able to attend.
