“ To The Friday Family, I know her as Annette; we were childhood friends, and she was always this kindhearted person and one that had a beautiful soprano voice. I remembered the Chorus Teacher calling her down to the front of the class to sing "You Light Up My Life," when we were in Junior High School. Although she was bashful and nervous about singing it, eventually the butterflies went away and she really song that song. Just wanted to share one of my memories about your beloved wife, mother, sister and aunt.
