“ Mr. Fletcher, thank you for the words of encouragement, sharing your global travel stories with me, and being a stellar example of a loving husband and father. You are the perfect personification of a "Gentle Giant." I only wish I'd known the conversations I had with you at Synergy Link would end so soon, but I'm thankful that I had the opportunity to meet you. The next time I'm in Europe, I will find solace knowing that you're proud of me for continuing my French lessons and following my goals--as you expressed many times. May you rest in eternal peace. You have earned every second of rest. And while I will miss your presence immensely, thank you for being your authentically caring and selfless self. I hope you know how much I appreciated our conversations. Rest well, Sir.
