Roderick was born in Rock Island, Illinois on December 1, 1966 to Henry and May Frances Cobb. In 1967, they moved to Tupelo, MS, where he was educated in the Union County School Division and graduated from Saltillo High School.

"I Need Thee, Oh, I Need Thee! Every Hour, I Need Thee!"

Roderick attended Northeast Mississippi Community College, in Booneville, MS during the years of 1984-1986. In the Fall of 1986, he transferred and continued his education at the College of Architecture at Mississippi State University. Through long nights and much persistence over the next few years, Roderick achieved his Bachelor's Degree in Architecture. He began his architectural career with McCarty Architects in Tupelo, MS. Rod's career brought him to Jackson, MS where he worked with Ferguson Architect until 2012. A few of his proudest designs are Red Hill Missionary Baptist Church and Red Hill Community Center located in Blue Springs, MS, Salvation Hill Church of God in Christ in Brandon, MS. and North Hopewell Missionary Baptist Church in Taylor, MS. Also, he worked with Lowe's in Madison until his health failed, He loved talking, meeting and making new friends.

During his high school and college years, he developed an unbreakable brotherhood with Robert Hall that will last until eternity.

"Oh, Bless Me Now, My Savior"

On September 8, 1991, Rod was blessed to have a son named DeMarcus Cobb. Rod and DeMarcus enjoyed fun times, boy scouting, attending MSU games, watching games on tv and talking on the phone about current events. They were the joy of each others lives.
